OUTREACH THROUGH TECHNOLOGY

You're not a hosting provider. Nor should you be. But behind your sites and apps sits hardware and infrastructure which someone needs to handle. And if what you're doing is complex enough, you sooner or later don't want to mess with the distraction of this full-time responsibility. But no worries, let our no hassle Managed Hosting solutions take the hardware out of your hands without taking the flexibility, customization you need.

CREATE WHAT YOU WILL. JUST DON'T CREATE A SERVER NIGHTMARE FOR YOURSELF.

OTM can make your life easier. That happens with 24 x 7 support and technology solutions at your finger tips. When it's all said and done, that mainly translates into four important things. First, no downtime. Next, you get lots of flexibility with the physical requirements of the configuration. Also, you're free to run customized apps or sites—unlike the closed architecture of a cloud. And lastly, security and data isolation are taken care of whether it's for regulatory reasons or just for your own sanity.

Sites and apps come in all shapes, sizes and kinds. And we have limitless options to fit whatever it is that you're doing. We can design, build and deploy a customized configuration that can isolate multiple sites that you can bill and support separately. We even make it pretty simple to isolate your test and dev environments from your production environments in one server or in multiple servers. That, in itself, is a gift of budget and time efficiency.

Bloggers, developers, designers and others take notice. If you want to get out of the hardware support business, OTM hosting solutions are here to save your day.

We offer a superior industrial/enterprise class product for with no SLA traps or hidden fees. We take a personal interest in every client and are obsessed with taking care of customers and their servers.
